Frank J. Boucek has been practicing law in the areas of commercial real estate and telecommunications for nearly a decade. He represents clients in lease negotiations, including telecommunications leases with large institutions and municipalities, as well as the acquisition and disposition of wireless facilities. Frank has experience performing site analysis for locating and identifying properties and conducting zoning presentations on behalf of industry leading clients. In addition to his telecommunications practice, Frank also negotiates retail and office leases on behalf of both landlords and tenants.

Previously, Mr. Boucek acted as the regional director of operations for a telecommunications site development company, where he managed wireless infrastructure projects in multiple states, affecting thousands of sites. Prior to joining Ginsberg Jacobs LLC, Frank was an associate at Levenfeld Pearlstein, LLC.
